MY LIVING EDUCATIONAL THEORY
OF INCLUSIONAL PRACTICE

Margaret Cahill

For the award of PhD from the University of Limerick

Thesis Supervisor: Professor Jean McNiff

Submitted to the University of Limerick, October 2007
TABLE OF CONTENTS

Abstract iv
Acknowledgements v

INTRODUCTION 1

- About my thesis 7
- My research question 10
- The main themes of the thesis 11
- The potential significance of my research 14
- Form of my thesis 16

CHAPTER ONE BACKGROUND TO THE RESEARCH 19

- Introducing myself 20
- My educational values, their realisation and their denial: stories of experience 25
- Key conceptual frameworks, as the transformation of my ontological and epistemological values 34
- My methodological framework 38
- Conclusion 42

CHAPTER TWO CONTEXTS OF MY PRACTICE 43

- My work contexts 46
- Policy in relation to mainstream education 47
- Policy in relation to learning support 57
- Policy in relation to special education 68
- Policy in relation to the Resource Teaching of Travellers 89
- Summary 100

CHAPTER THREE MY EDUCATIONAL AND SOCIAL VALUES 101

- My ontological values 103
- My epistemological values 107
- My social and political values 110
- Creating my living educational theory of inclusional practice 114

CHAPTER FOUR METHODOLOGY 117

- Why action research? 118
- Practical issues of my research 128
- Conclusion 137

CHAPTER FIVE DEVELOPING A CRITICAL PEDAGOGY 138

- To begin at the beginning 139
- Reconceptualising curriculum and pedagogy 144
- Pedagogy and curriculum 149
- Learning how to learn from my practice 154
- Experimenting with my new learning 158
CHAPTER SIX  NEW CRITICAL PRACTICES, NEW CRITICAL THEORIES 162
Case study 1: A story of mainstream class practice 163
Case study 2: Working with Pat 179
Case Study 3: Laney’s story 184

CHAPTER SEVEN  NELL 187
Summary 212

CHAPTER EIGHT  ESTABLISHING THE VALIDITY OF MY CLAIMS TO KNOWLEDGE 214
The evidence base of my claim to knowledge 215
How I have contributed to education 217
How I have contributed to new forms of theory 234
Demonstrating the validity and legitimacy of my claims to knowledge 236

CHAPTER NINE  THE POTENTIAL SIGNIFICANCE OF MY RESEARCH 238
The potential significance of my research for new practices in inclusional education 239
The potential significance of my research for new thinking in inclusional education 243
The potential significance of my research for the Teaching Council of Ireland 245
Conclusion 247

BIBLIOGRAPHY 249

APPENDICES 277

PLEASE NOTE: ALL ORIGINAL DOCUMENTS AND COPIES OF ORIGINAL DOCUMENTS ARE IN MY DATA ARCHIVE. THEY ARE AVAILABLE FOR VERIFICATION PURPOSES.

These documents contain information which may lead to the identification of research participants and research settings and therefore have not been made public within the thesis. This is in keeping with my promise to safeguard the anonymity of participants. I explain my ethical procedures in Chapter 4.
ABSTRACT

This thesis is the articulation of my living educational theory of inclusional practice, which evolved through undertaking research in the area of educational provision for marginalised children. It is a narrative account in which I offer descriptions of and explanations for my practice, as I transform my educational contexts into a celebration of democratically-constituted inclusional practices.

The thesis demonstrates how my embodied values of justice, inclusion and equality compelled me to develop social and educational practices that included potentially marginalised children. My living educational theory of inclusional practice therefore contains within itself a living theory of social justice premised on the idea that all are equal participants in democratic public discourses. I explain how I have transformed these values into the living critical standards of judgement by which I wish my work to be evaluated.

My original contributions to knowledge are to do with how I demonstrate the development of inclusional practices that are grounded in the realisation of my values that honour the individual and enable them to become agents in the creation of an inclusive society. From the grounds of my evidence base, I claim to have developed an inclusional practice that has profound implications of the education of the teaching profession and other social formations.